ARMOUR IS OUT OF IT.

THE PACKERS WITHDRAW FROM THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

But There Are Rumors of Another Big Deal in Which Chicago Banks and Capital Are Important Factors—Armour Controls Property to Put a Stop to the Exhibition of "Under Bottom Plays" and Other Fusion Fixtures.

—Troubles for Long Branch Gamblers.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—The stock market went wild, and many shares broke more than 5, and there is ample reason to believe that activity will not be an novel again before next Tuesday or Wednesday. The announcement that Mark Hopkins and one of the Chicago millionaires had quietly bought their profits and dropped out to await developments is known to have had its effect in many quarters, and the rumors in circulation that the packers had withdrawn from the speculative markets, and that Armour had left the Chicago Board of Trade, were also believed to be true. Whether they are or not, it is certain that the bears were badly frightened, and that many who had been counting confidently on a big break in prices were compelled to cover their contracts at a loss. The bulls, on the other hand, were encouraged, and many of them who had been selling stocks short for a turn, and who had only bought the first hour, were induced to hold on for a further rise.

What is your idea of Armour?" was asked of Jacob Cantrell, the senior member of the firm of Cantrell & Cochran.

"Why, I know the great Chicago operator, and the article was reported to be in heavy manipulations, but, I may add, I have not heard anything definite. I have seen Armour several times recently, but I did not think it worth while to ask him about his business affairs. I am not in the habit of bothering him with questions concerning his private affairs, and I am sure he would not like it if I should do so. But there's no telling what he may be doing. He is a very shrewd man, and I would not be surprised to hear of almost anything he might undertake. He is a man of great resources, and I have no doubt that he has plenty of money to carry out any scheme he may have in view. I have not heard that he has withdrawn from the speculative markets, but I would not be surprised to hear that he had done so. He is a man who is always looking out for his own interests, and I have no doubt that he has taken care of himself in the present crisis."

Mr. Armour's brother, Herman Armour, was also interviewed, but he refused to say anything about the matter.

"I am not in the habit of talking about my brother's business affairs," he said, "and I do not propose to do so now. I have no idea what he is doing, and I do not know whether he is in the markets or not. I have not seen him for several days, and I do not know where he is. He is a man who is very reticent about his business affairs, and I do not feel like talking about him."

Mr. Armour's office in Chicago was closed, and no one could be found who would say anything about the matter.

Mr. Armour's withdrawal from the speculative markets, if he has withdrawn, will be a severe blow to the bears, and especially to the Wall street men who favor many of their dealings and business by fighting the speculators. The bears are in confusion and their losses are so heavy that they are unable to operate with their customary vigor. Many of them are badly hit, and some are said to be on the verge of failure. Should Armour withdraw from the markets, and should he not return to them, the bears will be left without a leader, and will not be able to withstand the attacks of the bulls. They will be badly hit by the withdrawal of Armour, and will be compelled to cover their contracts at a loss.

What do your friends in Chicago say?" was asked of Jacob Cantrell, the senior member of the firm of Cantrell & Cochran.

"They say that Armour has been badly used, and the article was intended to be a heavy manipulation, but, I may add, I have not heard anything definite. I have seen Armour several times recently, but I did not think it worth while to ask him about his business affairs. I am not in the habit of bothering him with questions concerning his private affairs, and I am sure he would not like it if I should do so. But there's no telling what he may be doing. UP GO THE CABLE RATES.

ONE WAR IS OVER AND ONE PERHAPS WILL FOLLOW.

Dispatches Say the Rumor That the Rates Will Be Trebled Has Made the Public Indignant—Europe's Friends Have Had the Old Purchased Ready—The Story Was Started by Some Jobbing Company.

New York, July 31.—(Special.)—The tariff war between the Committee and the Western Union cable companies is at an end. The rates will be advanced to twenty-five cents a word. The official announcement, which will be made from Rome, paid to depend for a day or two, pend the agreement upon the new rates. The negotiations, which began a few months ago, were continued for the Commercial Cable Company by Vice-President Clarke, General Manager G. Ward, and Mr. Albert G. Chandler, Vice-President of the United Telegraph Cable Company, and for the Western Union Company and the affiliated English cable companies by President Orton and Secretary and General Manager Eckert. The representatives of the Commercial Cable Company were in communication throughout with President Orton, who was at Toronto, Ont. Secretary Eckert was the main and confidential link between the negotiating cables managed by the two companies. Nothing in the nature of a pool, partnership, or such like suggestion. The agreement upon will apply to the cable service only. For the consideration of a certain number of cents per word the Western Union will not put down cable rates, nor will it enter into any combination to control press rates or to make charges, but the agreement will be that there shall be no reduction in present rates. It is the opinion of those who have had the matter in charge that the agreement will be permanent, and that the Western Union will not be tempted to break it. The Commercial Cable Company will be allowed to name a director in the Western Union Company, and the Western Union will be allowed to name a director in the Commercial Company. The agreement will be submitted to a meeting of the stockholders of the Western Union Company, which will be held in this city on the 15th of August, and it is expected that it will be ratified at that meeting. The Commercial Company has already ratified the agreement. The Western Union has been paying 5 per cent dividends on its stock, and the Commercial Company has been paying 4 per cent. The new agreement will probably increase the dividends of both companies. The Commercial Company has been paying 4 per cent on its stock, and the Western Union has been paying 5 per cent. CONSCIENCE DROVE HIM.

SUICIDE, THE 14th VICTIM AT THE LAKEVIEW, CORBETT HOUSE.

He Attended Worship, and Was Engaged to Testify at the Inquest—His Fellow-Men Are Less Severe Judgment—Mr. Hutchinson Suggested for the Board of Commerce for Introducing the Speaker—Rumors, the Result Uncertain, of the Fight of Fools.

Toledo, July 30.—Dr. James Bailey, the special officer in attendance at Tuesday's and during Mr. Hanchett's temperance fight, and who was subpoenaed to appear at the inquest on Hitchcock's death, has committed suicide.

Dr. Bailey had been present at the inquest daily, waiting to be called to the witness stand. The evidence given to show that Dr. Hanchett was accustomed to drink while in the jail caused a great sensation in this city. His suicide confirms the popular belief that Dr. Hanchett was really treated by the prize officers.

Dr. Bailey left a statement regarding the prize contributors of Messrs. O'Brien and Hanchett, as evidence to be given at the inquest. The police have seized the documents.

At the conclusion of the inquest today the counsel for the Prize Board asked an adjournment for a few days to enable them to produce the evidence which Dr. Bailey would have given.

Mr. Hanchett, visiting Justice, testified that the record that Mr. Hanchett be put to the hospital was exaggerated. Dr. Chase said that Hanchett had suffered from fits in the penitentiary and from hunger and overwork, and the evidence of Dr. Hanchett, brother of the former, was a corroborative one. Dr. Bailey, the witness, was a special testimony.

At the request of the board of Dr. Bailey a post-mortem examination was held by Dr. Chase, Dr. Hanchett, Dr. Mowry, coroner, who refused to allow the jury to view the remains of Hanchett, which Dr. Bailey left instructions to the Governor of Tuberculosis, requesting that they be viewed and no autopsy be held. The request was complied with.

Newspaper Correspondents of the Speaker Promptly Punished by the House.

London, July 30.—In the House of Commons today Lord Randolph Churchill asked the Speaker for permission to question Mr. Courtney as to whether he was the author of a letter appearing in the New Zealand Times, written in support of the Speaker in supporting the Tory motion for removal of the Speaker, and referring to removal from Hansard of the remarks of Mr. Courtney in reference to the recent Irish debate.

The Speaker refused to answer the question, but said that he had received a letter from Mr. Courtney, in which the latter admitted the authorship of the letter referred to, and expressed regret for the publication of the letter.
